5: Cancellation and Restoration of Services

Cancellation of Services

If you wish to cancel your services, which is subject to a monthly subscription with Etisalat by e&, Etisalat by e& will process your cancellation request as soon as possible provided you have settled your outstanding amounts and fulfilled any other relevant condition in your contract.

If you cancel a service order after work has started on the provision of the requested service, you must pay us for the costs of such work. All outstanding dues to Etisalat by e& must be cleared before we cancel your service.

Our General Terms and Conditions set out the minimum commitment periods for services that we offer. Unless otherwise determined by Etisalat by e&, if you cancel your service before the minimum commitment period has elapsed, you will be liable to pay an early exit charge in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the relevant service.

Etisalat by e& reserves the right to cancel your service in accordance with Etisalat by e&'s General Terms and Conditions. Applicable circumstances include, but are not limited to, if you delay payment of charges, if you do not use your prepaid connection for a continuous period of 3 months or more, or do not renew your identification documents at Etisalat by e&, if you interfere or tamper with any of Etisalat by e&'s provided equipment without prior written authority, if you fraudulently or maliciously use the telecommunications system in a manner prohibited by law or if you exploit local line facilities. Other cases include wrong activation of services due to an error or fault.

Restoration of Service

You may be able to restore lines suspended for non-payment of account on request upon settlement of all outstanding dues only within 3 months of temporarily suspending your line. Charges will apply for restoration of the line and all associated services. Requests for restoration of service after cessation will be treated as new application for service and full connection charges will apply. You may be able to request your ceased telephone number if it is still available.

Denial of Service

Etisalat by e& reserves the right to reject any subscription, to deny access to any of our services, to terminate contracts and/or to suspend supply of our services according to our General Terms and Conditions

6: Billing and Payment

Billing Method and Cycles

You may be required to pay a connection charge or setup fee for your service in advance, as advised by Etisalat by e&. Rental charges are generally payable in advance in monthly/quarterly instalments. Other charges are generally billed to you monthly, in arrears. You have the freedom to choose the preferred language, whether Arabic or English, in which you would like to receive your bills. The amount due and billing date will be included in your bill. Bills that are not paid within the credit period and are still due after the expiry date will render the subject subscriptions liable for disconnection.

Etisalat by e&, as part of its Green billing and environmentally friendly initiative provides its customers with electronic bills instead of printed paper bills, i.e. through SMS or email.

However, we do release customer information if required by law, law enforcement agencies, competent authorities, to protect property or public interests or matters of state security. Also, through the process of making a credit check with a credit reporting agency. It is also compulsory that Etisalat by e& discloses information, to comply with court order. We may also disclose information for the purposes of provisioning/ maintaining of the telecom services requested by you.

10: Subscriber Compensation Scheme

What is Etisalat by e& Compensation Scheme

Etisalat by e& provides all its telecom service Subscribers with compensation under two circumstances; the first is in the event the Subscriber experiences any delay in the telecom service activation by Etisalat by e& from the communicated due date. The second circumstance is in case of the complete non-availability of your basic plan services due to a mass outage for a time period greater than 12 hours from reporting the issue. The compensation in both scenarios will be subject to certain conditions being met.

Eligibility to receive Compensation

To be eligible for compensation, you will need to at least fulfill the below criteria/ conditions:

Scenario #1 – Delay in telecom service activation:

- If you are an individual, you have subscribed to a new telecom service provided by Etisalat by e&; or
- If you are receiving the new service using bitstream or number portability¹; or
- If you are a business subscriber, you have subscribed to a new small-medium-business telecom service provided by Etisalat by e&; and
- You have paid or are expected to pay a service activation fee for the service in question; and
- Have experienced a delay in activation of the telecom service from the communicated Service Activation Due Date;² and
- The delay in activation is caused by or within the control of Etisalat by e&.
- You have not missed or rescheduled the appointment for the installation of the telecom service in question.
- The mentioned exclusions in this scheme are not applicable.

Scenario #2 – Complete mass/general service outage/ non-availability of base plan services:

- You have experienced a complete service outage/ non-availability of the services of your basic plan due to a mass general service outage for a time duration exceeding 12 hours (calculated from reporting time); and

¹ Bitstream and number portability (mobile, fixed, and/or toll-free) are telecommunication services governed by their respective agreements between the licensed telecommunication operators, hence the provisioning of such service may depend on factors beyond etisalat by e&'s control.

² For fixed services requiring or which concludes with a technician visit: An activation due date can be ascertained only after appointment and the technician visit is completed. Activation of the service happens thereafter.

- You have paid for or are expected to pay for the rental of the basic plan/service in question; and
- You have reported such service outage/ non-availability of service to Etisalat by e&; and
- The general service outage is confirmed by Etisalat by e&; and
- The general service outage is the result of some failure on the part of Etisalat by e& services / network; and
- The restoration of the service which suffered the general service outage is within the control of Etisalat by e&; and
- The mentioned exclusions in this scheme are not applicable

How do I calculate the compensation I am eligible for

The compensation amount will be calculated based on the type of incident you have experienced; the below table illustrates the applicable principles for the calculation of the compensation.

The compensation amount will be calculated based on:

- Service activation fee in case of delay in activation; or
- Basic plan monthly recurring rental charge in case of service outage/ non-availability of service

How do I receive the compensation amount

The compensation will be posted by Etisalat by e& in your bill subject to the specific conditions being met.

Exclusions

The compensation scheme will not be applicable in the below scenarios:

- The delay in provisioning or restoration of telecom services was outside Etisalat by e& control. This includes but not limited to the below:
 - Customer related reasons, including non-availability, missed appointment or technician access not granted;
 - Third party involvement (i.e. municipalities, police, etc...);
 - Natural disasters (i.e earthquakes, pandemics, etc...), bad weather condition, crisis/road closures;
 - Services involving devices, such as routers, setup boxes, phones etc..., purchased by customers directly from 3rd party, wherein such device(s) had caused the loss of service, and/or crucially delayed etisalat by e&'s ability to restore the service, or wherein fault in such device(s) is the reason behind the non-availability of service, or had crucially delayed etisalat by e&'s ability to activate the service;
 - Legacy services that are no longer being sold, provisioned, and/or charged by etisalat by e&;
 - Legacy device(s) that are out of stock and are no longer sold by etisalat by e&.
- Large Business Subscribers, including, but not limited to, enterprise service plans provided to Large Business Subscribers;
- Planned interruptions which have been properly notified to the concerned authorities and customers.
- Non-telecom services/ Additional Services provided by Etisalat by e& and/ or its Partners.
